Updating Your SETINIT Information

HR Vision Software is licensed on an annual basis. In order to run the HR Vision Software you license from SAS Institute, current licensing information must be maintained. If you do not apply the update, your HR Vision Software may cease to function.

The new licensing information for your site is in the file named SETINIT.SAS. To update your HR Vision licensing information, perform the following steps. (These instructions are contained in a README.txt file for your convenience.)

1. Exit the HR Vision application if it is running.
2. If your HR Vision Site Administrator has placed the SETINIT.SAS file in a central location to be used, identify that location. Otherwise, you will need to insert the HR Vision SETINIT Diskette into the floppy drive as provided.
3. From the Windows 95 or Windows NT style taskbar, select Start and then Run.
4. In the Run dialog box, type the following command (all on one line).

```
"C:\Program Files\SAS Institute\HR Vision\hrv.exe"
-sysin A:\setinit.sas -setinit -noautoexec

Note: This example assumes HR Vision Software is installed on the C drive. Replace the drive letter if necessary. In the above example, Program Files\SAS Institute\HR Vision should be replaced with the actual name of the directory in which HR Vision Software was installed. The sysin location should be the directory address for your SETINIT.SAS file, either from the site directory or the diskette.

This process will display the product splash screen momentarily. Once the splash screen is no longer displayed, you can use HR Vision Software again.

If you have questions regarding the SETINIT process, please contact SAS Institute Technical Support at (919) 677-8008.
