

Your updated Risk Dimensions software SETINIT information is enclosed

The enclosed diskette contains your updated SETINIT authorization code. If you do not apply the update, your Risk Dimensions software may cease to function.

Updating Your SETINIT Information

Risk Dimensions software is licensed on an annual basis. In order to run the Risk Dimensions software you license from SAS Institute, current licensing information must be maintained.

The enclosed diskette contains the new licensing information for your site in the file named `SETINIT.SAS`. Use this diskette to update your Risk Dimensions licensing information by performing the following steps.

1. Exit the Risk Dimensions application if it is running.
2. Insert the Risk Dimensions SETINIT Diskette into the floppy drive.
3. From the Windows 95 or Windows NT style taskbar, select `Start` and then `Run`.
4. In the `Run` dialog box, type the following command (all on one line).

c:\RiskDimensions\sas -config c:\RiskDimensions\config.sas
-sysin a:\setinit.sas -setinit -noautoexec

Note: This example assumes Risk Dimensions software is installed on the `C` drive. Replace the drive letter if necessary. In the above example, both occurrences of `RiskDimensions` should be replaced with the actual name of the directory in which Risk Dimensions software was installed.

Once the process completes, you can use Risk Dimensions software again.

If you have questions regarding the SETINIT process, please contact SAS Institute Technical Support at (919) 677-8008.
