
Contents

Foreword xi

Preface xiii

Acknowledgments xxi

Chapter 1 Your Organization Is Not “The Web” 1

Terminology and Definitions 1
From Documents to Flows 6
Social Side of Knowledge Flows 7
KFM versus Social Media 10
Case Study 1: The Hub (SAS) 11
Case Study 2: RedNet (Red Ventures) 15
Notes 17

Chapter 2 Why Should You Care about Social Media? 19

Motivations 19
Network Dynamics 24
Breaking Isolation 26
The Super Watercooler 29
Handling the Dynamic Organization 32
Innovation Enablement 33
Notes 36

Chapter 3 Getting Started..... 37

- Inside versus Outside Social Media 37
- Differences in the World 39
- Laying the Foundation 45
- How to Really Get It Off the Ground 50
- Launch: Project or Initiative? 55
- Technology: Build or Buy 56
- Notes 58

Chapter 4 Roles..... 61

- More Than Just Socializing 61
- Individuals and Departments 68
- Mobilize Your Evangelizers 74
- Notes 77

Chapter 5 Driving for Success..... 79

- Get All Stakeholders Involved Early 79
- Go Viral 82
- Freedom within Borders: The Power of Guidelines 85
- Training Portfolio 87
- Pulse 91
- Executive Participation: Not Just Buy-In 93
- Notes 96

Chapter 6 Fighting Barriers..... 97

- Fear of Losing Control 97
- Unlearning 100
- Dealing with “Stupid” 102
- Integration 103
- No Time to Post: Portfolio Management 110
- Legal Concerns 111
- Note 114

Chapter 7 Technology: The Enabler..... 115

Social or Supporting Social	115
I Want an Internal Facebook	118
The Power of Simplicity	120
Multidimensional Navigation	125
Groups or Communities	130
Notification Management	134
Notes	138

Chapter 8 Social Media Analytics..... 139

Analyze What Is Going On	139
Social Network Analysis versus Reporting	146
Choosing the Right KPIs	151
Notes	155

Chapter 9 What's Next..... 157

Advances in Technology	157
Dealing with Channel Overload	162
More Social or More Technology	164
Interaction Trends	167
Notes	168

Chapter 10 Final Thoughts..... 171

Appendix A Key Success Factors	175
Appendix B Additional Resources	181
About the Author	183
Index	185